Revision 0 – 2/19/26 First drawing provided

Your signature below acknowledges the following:

1 – You are provided Rev0 as your first preliminary drawing to review and/or approve. If changes are needed you will be provided Rev1 (revision 1) which is done free of charge. If changes are needed beyond Rev1, you will be billed $100 for each additional revision needed. The total revision fees, if applicable, will be billed upon approval of your preliminary drawing and will be billed with your construction/CAD fee which is $1200.

2 – You have verified that all information in this preliminary drawing including but not limited to the dimensions displayed in this file have been checked and are accurate.

3 – You are ready for the designer to complete your construction drawings based on this approved preliminary revision.

4 – If changes are needed to a construction set of drawings, it will result in another set of construction drawings produced under the same guidelines as the original set.
